BLAMES UNION FOR HIS FALL

Rambo Says He Used Funds of Organization to Support Wife and Family.

Pleading as his excuse that union work had made it impossible for him to obtain work during the financial straits of 1908, and that in order to support his family he was compelled to use the funds of the union, William Rambo, a member of the Carpenters' Union of this city, was examined before Judge Samuel in the police court this morning and held to answer on a charge of forgery in the second court.

Rambo was accused of forging the name of J. J. Miller to an endorsement of a check drawn on the Carpenters' Union of $15 and has confessed to the use of the funds of the union to support his family.

Rambo was examined before Judge Samuel in the police court this morning and held to answer on a charge of forgery in the second court.

GOLD DUST is better than soap and elbow grease for pots and pans. It digs deep into cracks and corners and sterilizes everything it touches

There is nothing about the kitchen which collects so much dirt, grease and grime as pots and pans; and there is nothing that will clean them so quickly, easily and thoroughly as GOLD DUST.

GOLD DUST cleanses until the last evidence of dirt has gone, and removes every trace of germ life.

You are probably not aware that pots and pans which are used constantly contain hidden nests of little wigglers—germs of putrefaction and decay. GOLD DUST removes these, because it sterilizes as well as cleans, and leaves your utensils clean, pure, wholesome, safe.

GOLD DUST will work wonders in cleaning and polishing milk cans, pails, bottles and dairy utensils, pots, pans and kettles.

Where Work Should Be Done.

There is no disguising the fact that San Francisco is to have a hard fight for the Panama-Pacific Exposition; and when we say San Francisco, we mean California, for the entire State is now heartily united in favor of bringing the big fair to the Golden Gate. New Orleans has waked up and is putting forth energetic efforts to frustrate San Francisco's efforts and obtain approval for her own fair project. The Louisiana Congressmen are drawing political lines in their arguments for New Orleans, apparently with some success, hence the necessity for getting favorable action on the Kahn resolution at this session of Congress.

Let us not deceive ourselves or lull ourselves to sleep with the delusion that we have a walk-over. Because we are unanimous out here is no reason why we should relax our efforts or consider the fight won. What we need is eastern influence, and that is what California should seek to obtain by every possible means. A large majority of the Congressmen favor San Francisco, but many of them quite naturally desire home backing for the action they take. They wish, as is proper, the approval of their constituents. Therefore people out here should endeavor to enlist the active co-operation of friends all over the country, particularly in the Middle and Eastern States—the South is practically a unit in favor of New Orleans.

Speaker Cannon and the Republican leaders of the House are with us, but the Democratic minority is largely composed of Southern men who favor New Orleans. The injection of sectional politics into the exposition scheme naturally brings about new complications which must be met. There is some danger that the next House may be Democratic, in which case Southern influence would dominate the committees. That influence would be favorable to New Orleans and hostile to San Francisco, for there is no Democrat in Congress from California to combat the party influence exerted in behalf of the Crescent City.

Hence the necessity for action before Congress adjourns, which will not be later than July 15th. If we can get the Kahn resolution passed the whole world will be given the government's assurance that the exposition will be held in San Francisco, and that its success will be promoted by the active co-operation of government agencies. The thing to do now is to work in the east—expand our efforts to missionizing among the constituents of Congressmen who are doubtful of home support. This is the strategic point which should not be neglected at this juncture. If we push our advantage in that direction San Francisco is bound to win.

The Defamation of San Francisco.

The following is an excerpt from an editorial recently printed in the Nashville Tennessean:

"California is in the throes of a war against rats which should set other States to making an effort to stamp out the rodent and eliminate one of the greatest menaces to public health.

"The discovery that bubonic plague was being spread in California by rats set all the State near San Francisco to work in a campaign of extermination.

"Rat fighters are organized in crews under the direction of State and Federal experts, and neighborhoods are cleaned up by a systematic hunt and the spreading of poison for the rodents which cannot be driven from their places of refuge."

Collier's Weekly is responsible for the circulation of the falsehoods printed in the Nashville paper, which is only one of a great number of journals that Collier's has imposed on. The circulation at this time of the story that this section of California is infected with bubonic plague is evidently with an object. That object is to prejudice San Francisco's efforts to get the Panama-Pacific Exposition. But Collier's Weekly set the yarn afloat. That journal exerted itself to convince its readers that political and business life in California is rotten to the core, and followed up with the assertion that bubonic plague is rife in the region around the bay.

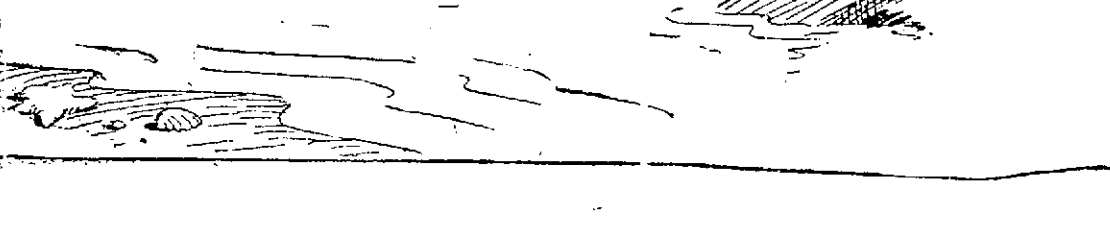

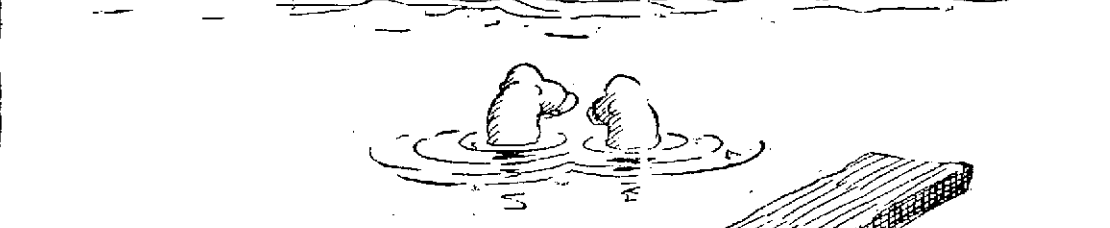

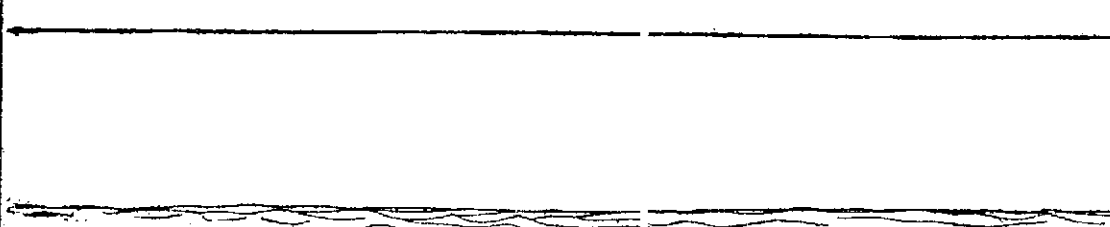

M. E. Tarpey, who was active in Democratic politics when Theodore Bell was a pulling baby in arms, now has his right to run for Governor challenged by Bell's lieutenants who threaten to appeal to the law to prevent his name going on the ballot. Bell's clique has attacked the party loyalty and personal integrity of every man suggested as a Democratic candidate for Governor, save Joseph Call, who was declared out by the Bell organs before he had ever indicated an intention to get into the race. Tarpey was for many years the California member of the Democratic National Committee, but he voted for Taft at the last election, although he was registered as a Democrat and still claimed to be a member of the Democratic party. But Bell, who advocated the nomination and election of Francis J. Heney for District Attorney on the Democratic ticket, although Heney was registered as a Republican, declares Tarpey is ineligible under the primary law to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination. He does this because he is afraid to take his chances with Tarpey before the Democratic voters.

If it be true, as is reported, that the ram Kahadiah was accidentally sunk by an eight-inch shell fired at a distance of 7000 yards, then battleship armor is very ineffective protection against modern high power guns. Guns of eight-inch calibre have a minor destructive capacity compared to the huge twelve and thirteen-inch guns with which all turret ships are armed, but if they can drive a shell through nine inches of armor at a distance of four miles the fact demonstrates that armored ships are more vulnerable than has been popularly supposed.

Charles M. Fickert has been District Attorney of San Francisco less than six months, but he has already brought the fish trust to book. His predecessor, William M. Langdon, held office for four years, but in all that time he made no effort to break up or punish the piratical fish combine.

"Give the American boy a chance!" exclaimed Councilman Everhart in opposing a safe and sane Fourth of July. But is giving him a license to mangle himself and burn down the town giving him the right sort of a chance?

Hotelkeepers in Dandah, Canada, which voted to close all drinking places, took revenge on the town in a novel way. They built high fences around their bars and told travelers to pass on and the townspeople to find other places to hang out in. But the citizens are game and have set out to make the boycott ineffective. They have opened their homes to visitors and are preparing to provide sheds for farmers' teams, which have always been adjuncts of the hotels. "Where there's a will to stop liquor selling there's a way," is the town's motto.

"The average Chicago church member is a spiritual hobo. He considers himself one of those happy mediums."

represented by Weary Willie, who was too light to do heavy work and too heavy to do light work. In his attitude toward religion he resembles the hand-out artist who holds up a button and asks the woman of the house to sew a shirt upon it. This is the view expressed by H. E. Silver of Topeka, at the laymen's missionary convention in Chicago, and he added this gentle slap at the clergy: "There is too much timid asking on the part of the ministers and not enough of commanding. You have too little confidence in the desire of your congregations to do good, and such doubt is contagious. I believe one of the great secrets of handling men is to tell them to do things rather than ask them if they won't."

"I noticed in a paper the other day," remarked a suburbanite, "a story about a young couple who went to housekeeping on the thirtieth floor of an office building to escape visits from a crabbed old aunt who couldn't reach them there because she was afraid of elevators. That reminds me of a friend of mine who bought a house, high on a hill and half a mile up a wood road from the highway. 'What do you want with such a hermitage as that?' I asked him. 'Well,' he replied, 'to tell who my friends are. If anybody has the courage to tell up that hill to see my family I'll know he or she is a real friend, who sincerely wants to see us, and not just a caller who dropped in because it was convenient.'"

What Is Their Program?

Herein, it appears to us, lies the greatest weakness of the league movement, the lack of any definite, coherent, avowed purpose, except of putting the league leaders in. The progress the league campaign has made has been due to the fact that the league leaders have personally inspired people with the belief that they mean better than they are willing to say, that they will accomplish more than they promise to undertake. But why should not the league promise that, if it is given the power it asks for, it will undertake to do more of the specific things the people of the State want accomplished? . . . Shall we discuss the things we hope to do and the new laws we hope to enact, the reforms we hope to carry out frankly with the people and ask their votes for these things, or shall we ask the voters to support candidates merely because they are proclaimed as reformers and independent of the railroad influence and demand that all the plans be left to the league leaders to work out after election?—Bakersfield Echo.

Soldiers and Will Power

That military training strengthens the power of the will was shown by recent experiments in Austria. To determine what effect the fatigue resulting from a long march might have upon the shooting efficiency of trained soldiers, the Austrian school of musketry recently had a cyclist detachment of fifty men, all over two years' service, do sixty-five miles in eight hours, the return journey being against a strong head wind. Before and after the march they each fired ten rounds at a target representing a section of twenty-six men lying motionless order lying down at 500 paces. Before the march the detachment made forty hits on ninety figures; after the march, thirty-eight hits on sixteen figures.

The experiment was then repeated with a section of forty-two noncommissioned officers, before and after a twenty-three hours' exercise in the field, during which thirty-three miles were covered. This section, consisting principally of marksmen, made eighty-one hits on twenty-one out of twenty-six figures before starting and sixty-two hits on twenty figures after their return.

But the raw recruit, when subjected to a similar test of endurance, fails to hit the target at all. He is incapable of the effort of will and firm resolve to hit which renders the trained soldier a formidable antagonist, even when his strength is exhausted by hunger and fatigue.

Frost Estimates Padded

The estimated loss inflicted upon agricultural interests by the recent blizzard in the Middle West has dwindled from $1,000,000,000 to $50,000,000, with the downward tendency unchecked. It was a great bull card in cotton and grain markets, and the bears were paralyzed until the grossly exaggerated character of the reports became obvious and it was seen that the bulls were taking advantage of the situation to unload. Already the fictitious gains are melting away as rapidly as the snow, with indications pointing to a quickening of the downward trend when the truth as to the damage by snow and frost is fully established.

The new cotton crop was the greatest sufferer, owing to the young plant having an abnormally early start, but there is time and to spare for replanting, reducing the first loss reports to the cost of seed and labor for the second crop. North of the cotton belt the damage was confined in a great measure to fruit, which is

Eighteenth Century Epigrams

A florid speech without matter is like a drum—noisy, but empty.

To flatter a good man is needless; a bad one an insult.

Pedantry is the foppery of learning, as fringed and embroidered are of dress.

Always subject to early disaster, and for that reason is not taken into account in crop estimates. Winter wheat, of course, was not damaged, and corn planting had not progressed to a stage where a cold snap had any terrors.

The scale down from $1,000,000,000 to $50,000,000, with a probable final estimate of under $20,000,000, is characteristic of first reports of loss by frost and flood. The National Forest Conservation Association sent out a statement the other day placing the annual flood loss in the United States at $100,000,000, which is based practically wholly on unofficial and unreliable reports. As a matter of fact, there are few official figures on which to base an estimate, for the reason that in the absence of insurance adjustments, as in the case of fire, no official record is made.—Washington Post.

After being committed to the institution against her will, Miss Grace was taken back to her cell and O'Connor left to prepare for the trip. Upon returning he found the girl in bed. The gallant officer informed her that it was time "to be going." She replied that she had taken all her clothes off and was in bed. "I won't put them on and I would like to see you take me," cried the young woman.

All the while O'Connor realized the situation. He rushed out, closed the court house lawn and did some deep thinking. He is still pondering.

KILLED HIMSELF TO SHIELD WOMAN

The Suicide of Captain Claude
Champion de Crespigny Is Laid to Gallantry.

LONDON, May 25.—The suicide of Captain Claude Champion de Crespigny, of the second Life Guards, twice decorated for the Victoria Cross for deeds of gallantry following so closely his return from the United States where he went as a member of the crack hurling polo team, being vividly discussed in an effort to arrive at the true motive behind the tragic death.
One of the explanations offered is that Captain de Crespigny shot himself to shield Mrs. Captain Spencer Holman, whose husband—one of the many who have been international matches between American heroines and a noted Englishman—is to end unhappily in the divorce courts.
It is said that Captain de Crespigny was married by Captain Holman in his suit for divorce and that rather than appear on the witness stand even to "help himself" as a gentleman, he committed suicide.
Again it is well known that Captain de Crespigny, who lived the fast life of a fashionable young man about town in London on a miserable income, was in a desperate financial straits at the end of his life. It is said that a revolver shot was the easiest way out of his difficulties.

Women in the News Today SUSPEND SORORITY GIRLS FOR ENTERTAINING WOMAN UNDER BAN OF FACULTY

Suspended 'Sister' Received at Dormitory and Bang! Goes the Ax; Fake Message
Says Missing Woman Is Safe

CHICAGO, May 25.—Six members of the Gamma Phi Gamma Sorority have been suspended by the faculty of Northwestern University because they entertained a member in violation of a rule of the faculty.
An entertainment given Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. "Brownie" Sheppard, a former student, a Willard Hall precipitated an investigation which led to the suspensions. Mrs. Sheppard before her marriage April 25 was Miss Ruth Palmer, who was a student at the University she lived at Willard Hall but moved from there to a house not under faculty supervision. For this she was suspended by the faculty.
This action caused an outcry issued to other members of the fraternity that Miss Palmer was not to be entertained in sorority rooms because of the infraction of the rule which counts as a violation of the rule. She lives at home.
With this announcement Miss Palmer quit the University and her marriage followed soon after.
Saturday, the six members under suspension invited Mrs. Sheppard to Willard Hall. Miss Potter, dean of women, told the students that Mrs. Sheppard would have to leave the hall in fifteen minutes. They left to dismiss their guest and Miss Potter ordered the charges.

Woman Safe, Says Fake Message

PORTLAND (Ore.), May 25.—Developments in the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Hanna Smith, a well-to-do widow from this city, May 8 served apparently to demonstrate that a telegram sent from Los Angeles saying the woman was all right was a fake, and that it was inspired by Eric E. Erlanson, an under clerk of this city with whom Mrs. Smith had entrusted $1200 of her money for safe keeping.
According to the police officials, a message was received from the Chief of Police of Los Angeles today stating that F. W. Lebricks had acknowledged sending the telegram from Los Angeles, and that he had done so at Erlanson's request.
Erlanson was summoned before Deputy District Attorney J. J. Fitzgerald and Captain of Detectives Moore and questioned. According to those officials Erlanson is said to have admitted that he telegraphed to Lebricks to have the message sent. Erlanson is said to have stated that the woman's relatives were much wrought up over her disappearance, and that to allay their apprehensions he caused the message to be sent.

This was the declaration of Miss Inaugh McLight, 21 years old, to Chief of Police Steward yesterday. She was the sweetheart of John Dabinski, the young miner who was shot and killed by detectives last week when he took him and two companions to his ghastly death.
Relatives of the victim accompanied Miss McLight to the chief's office and they demanded it is said, that some action be started to punish the policeman.

Mrs. Raymond told the court that Raymond whom she first married she said in 1890 is her uncle as well as husband, and that two children now 16 and 18 years of age respectively were born of that marriage. In 1901 she said they were divorced, and a 1906 remarried Raymond. She was denied.

NEW YORK, May 25.—George J. Gould contrary to what he had said for Europe yesterday with Mrs. Gould and the daughter of his family on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie. Pressure of business was the excuse given by Mr. Gould although he admitted he would have liked to go along.
Judge William H. Moore of the Rock Island system and Mrs. Moore were fellow passengers of Mrs. Gould on the liner.
With Mrs. Gould went her son daughter Vivien who will be presented to society next season. Mrs. Gould's eldest daughter, Marjorie, now Mrs. Anthony Drexel Jr. and her husband also were passengers.
Young Mr. and Mrs. Drexel were treated to a surprise when they entered their suite on board the steamer for in the berth reposed a life-size French doll. The identity of the giver was not disclosed, but it had been placed there by one of Marjorie's girl chums, or it is bruited about.
Mrs. Gould's mother, Mrs. Charles D. Kingdon, was also a passenger on the liner.

HEAVY SELLING HITS WHEAT PIT

Russia Prepares to Supply 2000 Cars to Move the New Crop.

Chicago, May 25.—Heavy selling all along the line today greeted speculators who thought that after daily big breaks in wheat prices it was time to make a rally.

Adverse to this opinion was the fact that Russia was reported as making preparation to supply the new crop.

India net exports of an amount of 300,000 bushels against 284,000 a year ago.

Domestic weather conditions were fine in all directions and the crop outlook was declared to be still improving.

First prices were irregular, but higher to some extent. The May delivery, however, was the only one on the list showing a gain, selling at 1.05 1/2.

Trading in oats was light. Fluctuations followed the wheat, but were not so pronounced.

OAKLAND CHAMBER URGES SUPPORT FOR BAY CITY

County Legislators Are to Be Instructed to Work for San Francisco.

NEW QUARTERS SOUGHT BY COMMERCIAL BODIES

Merchants' Exchange to Co-Operate in Search for a Suitable Building.

At the solicitation of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, through a suggestion received in a telegram from W. L. Gersie, president of that body, at yesterday's meeting of the directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, instructions to all representatives of this county at the legislature are being wired today, urging their support of San Francisco for the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915. Besides this, the Oakland chamber is planning a campaign among the business houses of the city, asking their representatives to assist in promoting the interests of San Francisco.

In accordance with the suggestion made to W. L. Gersie, manager of the trade bureau of the San Francisco Merchants' Exchange, by H. A. Jones, representative of the Southern Pacific, arrangements will be made to have a representative of this county at Washington in connection with the "long and short haul" regulations, to be decided by the Interstate Commerce Commission in the near future. According to Jones, Salt Lake, Utah, Spokane and several other inland cities already have representatives on the ground, and San Francisco is planning to send a representative. It will be further looked into before the commission begins its consideration of the subject.

TO SEEK NEW ROOMS.
To look for new quarters, pending the erection of a regular Chamber of Commerce building, the building committee of the chamber, composed of H. C. J. Housman, J. Tyrell, H. C. Capwell and M. J. Layman, were delegated to seek to secure quarters. The present quarters of the organization, at the corner of Eleventh and Franklin streets, will be vacated within a month, the lease of the chamber expiring at that time, and it is possible that arrangements will be made to secure new quarters. A report will be made by the committee at the next meeting of the directors.

At the suggestion of Secretary A. A. Denison, and for the convenience of Oakland newspapers, all future meetings of the directors will be held at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, instead of the afternoon. WILL ATTEND MEETING.
George C. Pardee was elected the representative from the Oakland Chamber of Commerce to attend the International Convention, which will meet in Portland, September 25. Several other delegates will be present. The present quarters of the organization, at the corner of Eleventh and Franklin streets, will be vacated within a month, the lease of the chamber expiring at that time, and it is possible that arrangements will be made to secure new quarters. A report will be made by the committee at the next meeting of the directors.

PROMOTER ADVENT IS COURTED BY DENISON

Chamber of Commerce Secretary Declares He Is Much Needed Factor.

INDUSTRIES SEEKING SITES IN OAKLAND

Many Going Concerns Want Stock and Bonds Taken in Part.

The advent of the legitimate promoter of industrial enterprises is courted by Secretary A. A. Denison of the Chamber of Commerce and is assured of the warm grip of the hand by those of the organization for which he stands. There are 110 "going" industries on the books of the Chamber of Commerce located in Eastern centers seeking a site for branch establishments in Oakland to supply the Pacific Coast trade.

Some of them propose to travel out here on their own cars but the greater number require that some investment be offered in the way of subscription to their stock and bonds.

"We, that is the Chamber of Commerce," said Mr. Denison, "can furnish them with facts and figures, but we are not in the line of securing subscriptions to stock."

GOING CONCERNS.
"The concerns to which I refer are in profitable operation and are doing business in their present location. With the right sort of responsible promoters at work there is no doubt an avenue offered in this for the investment of surplus capital in legitimate propositions which would greatly contribute to the benefit of this city by locating here and giving employment to our people."

However, the situation as not developed the man or men who can bring such propositions. Dario Alt has taken up the glass manufacturer who offered to come here and invest $200,000 of his own capital in a factory. We would raise the balance. From that I hear the people in that town are a fair way to raise $25,000 or $30,000 required and will probably get the factory. Such institutions as the Pullman Car Company do not ask a cent from a factory, but they have a check on their line and we do not get them every day.

"To my opinion there is a big opportunity in Oakland for the legitimate industrial promoter who can bring both ends together."

MAY HOLD EXHIBIT AT RACE TRACK

Stock Fair to Be Housed at the Oakland Course if Permit Is Had.

The proposed stock fair to be held in Oakland after the state fair in Sacramento, this year, may be held at the Oakland race track, according to the action of the committee appointed from Oakland to arrange for the exhibit. According to those in charge, lack of accommodations in Oakland proper is the reason for the choice of the race track. The exhibit will be held under which the state is allowed to appropriate money for stock exhibits, which is a branch of the state fair, prescribes Oakland as the fair city. It is probable that the race track can not be chosen. In this case the exhibit at the race track is considered, will not be held, the authorities say.

The exhibit is held under the auspices of the state board of agriculture and the officials in charge of the state fair, a county committee, making the arrangements, while the state contributes $10,000. The law under which Oakland is chosen states explicitly that it shall be held in Oakland. Every city or municipality, can not be used under this ruling.

Secretary A. A. Denison of the chamber of commerce has written to Comptroller Nye, asking that the technically be waived, and if this is done, arrangements will be made for the show as soon as possible.

The exhibit was to have taken in all the live stock exhibited at the state fair. The exhibits will, after the air is over, be moved from Sacramento to Oakland. Plans were made at first to hold the exhibit at Alcatraz. The race track, however, and the ill-fated space available at the park, made this plan impracticable, and, according to B. P. Miller, manager of the park, the race track is not available space in stags and large enough.

Death of Witnesses Gives Short Liberty

SANTA CRUZ, May 25.—By the death of two prosecuting witnesses, one at Eugene, Ore., and the other at Walla Walla, Wash., H. J. Peck enjoyed a short period of liberty in this city yesterday after serving thirty days for passing a notorious check. When his time elapsed the authorities in the northern towns who sought him on similar charges were notified but replied that the prosecuting witnesses had died during Peck's incarceration.

He was given his liberty but rearranged last night on advice from Walla Walla that two new warrants had been issued for him.

Peck, it is stated, is sought by the authorities of Sacramento, Stockton and Oakland on similar charges, but the amount is so small in each case that no effort to bring him back was made.

BLOODY ATTACK ENDS FIST FIGHT

Italian Uses Razor on Opponent, Slashing Laborer Three Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—A bloody fist combat, lasting five minutes, and proving exceedingly entertaining to a crowd of fellow laborers of the neighborhood, took a tragic turn at 8 o'clock this morning when Frank Santucci of 420 Union street was slashed three times with a razor in the hands of Charles Somone, for whom the police are searching.

The quarrel between the pair began last night, when Somone called at Santucci's house and had a dispute with him. Both men are employees of the Metropolitan Light and Power company at Beach and Mission streets, and this morning on arriving Santucci discovered that his working clothes were soiled.

He accused Somone of the deed and the latter admitted it and begged him. The two men then mixed and blow after blow was struck. Finally Santucci went down, and as he rose Somone is said to have slashed him in the breast, neck and arm, inflicting dangerous but not fatal wounds.

The assault then ran bareheaded from the neighborhood and Somone was
